Goodwill Graduates Stand Out in Savannah Tourism Industry

In the hostess city, tourism and hospitality is one of the dominant industries. This vital sector is growing every year, with visitor-spending reaching a staggering $1.67 billion in 2017. Combined with the incredible opportunities for upward mobility and career development, it is no surprise that Goodwill's training program (Hospitality Works!) has been so popular.

This week, Goodwill hospitality trainer Gloria Johnson was recognized by the Savannah Tourism Leadership Council's for her passion for the hospitality industry. Goodwill Southeast Georgia is proud of the dedication and commitment that Gloria demonstrates to her students, as well as the wealth of experience she brings to her role. "Goodwill is proud of the results Gloria has achieved as the leader of our Goodwill Hospitality training program." states Tammie Blaha, Goodwill Chief People Officer. "100% of the participants in her program have received certification by the American Hotel and Lodging Educational Institute."
